

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

[0033] A simple, convenient and cost-effective method for making a three-dimensional embroidery, comprising the steps of: (1) providing layers of fabric comprising a base layer, a top layer and an intermediary layer of a thickness; (2) embroidering a pattern through the layers of fabric with thread; (3) cutting the intermediary layer at a height to separate the top and base layers; and (4) removing the remaining intermediary layer from at least one of the top and base layers.